

JINGLE VALLEY FAIR

The annual Jingle Valley Fair sponsored by the United Women's Fellowship of Agawam Baptist Church will be held this Sat., Nov. 22. Many items for Christmas will be displayed. Also, all homemade baked goods, candies and other foods will be shown. A snack bar will be open all day from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. with a spaghetti dinner being served from 5 to 7. Mrs. Phyllis Catchepaugh is General Chm.

SCHOOL NIGHT FOR SCOUTING

School Night for Scouting will be held in Agawam tonight in the cafeteria of the Junior High School. The program will begin at 7 p.m. and is expected to last about an hour.

The purpose of the event is to enable boys between the ages of 8 and 11 who want to be Cub Scouts or Boy Scouts to attend a meeting with their parents and learn about the fun, adventure and educational values of scouting. In addition to meeting scouting leaders and having their questions answered, boys will be able to join scout units that will be organized as a result of the School Night for Scouting. Parent participation will also be enlisted.

Roger LeClerc of 257 Elm Street, a graduate of Agawam H.S. and Trinity mcollege, and former star place kicker and linebacker for the Chicago Bears and Denver Broncos, is Chm. of the event. LeClerc, who presently teaches mathematics and coaches golf at the High School, said: "Scouting is more an educational than recreational program and parents find that the fun and activities of scouting all have a basis of character development, citizenship training, and mental and physical fitness. Boys and their parents are being invited to attend the program and to join the scouts, and I am expecting a good turn out."

School Night for Scouting is a recruiting plan being carried out in Hampden County as a part of "Boypower '76", the long-range program of the Boy Scouts of America. "The slogan 'Boypower '76' means that America's Manpower begins with Boypower and we are using School Night for Scouting to demonstrate scouting's relevance to our modern, changing world," LeClerc explained. The program will include a film, a demonstration den meeting, and a question and answer period.

ANTI-FREEZE SOLUTIONS ARE POISONOUS

Dr. Todd O. Munson of the Mass. S.P.C.A.'s Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, Boston, today reminded the public that fuels and anti-freeze solutions used at this time of year can be dangerous to pets and children if swallowed.

Because of their washing habits, cats and kittens which walk in these materials or otherwise get them on their coats should immediately be washed in a mild soap and lukewarm water bath until all odor of the fluid is gone. The cat or kitten should then be kept in a warm room for several hours after the animal's coat is dry.

Any animal which has lapped the poison should have immediate veterinary attention. The odor of any of these kerosene or turpentine products is usually on the animal's breath. Anti-freeze products are extremely dangerous. One of the ingredients in ANTI-FREEZE PRODUCTS IS SO ATTRACTIVE TO CATS that they will often climb into the underparts of cars to lick off the fluid on the radiator. Car owners are asked to be extremely careful not to flush this deadly fluid where it can collect in pools and remain available to cats and dogs.

FIRST THANKSGIVING

MAIL EARLY TO BE SURE

"Don't take a chance on disappointing someone you love, send your gift parcels and cards early enough to insure their delivery before Christmas, not after," Agawam Postmaster Robert R. DeForge advised today.

"On the day after Christmas a P.O. bldg. can be the most depressing place in the world, DeForge added, "if it still contains a mountain of messages of love and cheer that didn't make it because they were mailed too late."

Gift parcels going to distant states should be mailed by Dec. 1. Parcels going to local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than Dec. 13.

The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside label. The outside label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

Greeting cards going to distant states should be mailed not later than Dec. 10. Cards going to local and nearby areas should be in the mail by Dec. 15.

He also emphasized the importance of using ZIP Codes and adding a return address to all Christmas mail.

ZIP Codes enable postal employees to sort and handle the mail faster.

"A return address might not seem very important," DeForge noted, "but last year over 32 billion pieces of mail went to postal dead letter branches because the mailing address couldn't be read and there was no return address on the envelope. If you estimate the worth of each of these pieces at 25¢, including postage, postal customers lost over $7.5 million last year to dead letter offices. And none of this would have happened if the envelope had contained a return address."

MAKE THOSE LEAVES WORK FOR YOU

It is very encouraging to note, that this autumn, so many residents are not burning their leaves as they did in past years. People are more aware of their own responsibility in not further burdening our polluted skies.

If you have a heavy leaf-fall, and don't know what to do with it, you can put this valuable material to good use, mulching perennials, shrubs, and trees, thus protecting them against the heaves of freeze and thaw, all winter long. Leaves should remain under the trees all year, and in the spring, they can be covered with a layer of bark mulch, for esthetic purposes. It is not healthy for a tree to have grass growing up to the trunk. Grass robs the tree of nutrients, but leaves will decay and feed the tree. Extra leaves can be ground up with a rotary mower, and left to decompose and form valuable humus. After they are ground up, you'd be surprised at how little space they take.

Happy Thanksgiving

EDNA BEGER FASHION SHOW FOR EASTERN STAR

Sunday, Nov. 23rd is the big day for "Holiday Moods in Fashion," the most exciting event of the year for West Springfield Chapter 144, Order of the Eastern Star. The event is to take place at the W.S. High School at 2:30 p.m. Kitty Broman will do the commentary to the many festive fashions provided by Edna A. Beger of Springfield St., Feeding Hills. Mr. Robert Falk will present an organ prelude and play appropriate background music as the models walk the stage. Models from Agawam include the Mrs. Margaret Tate, Christine Pone, Barbara Fuchs, Miss Darlene Smith, Mrs. Marge Alheim, and Mrs. Marilyn Perkins. They will model outfits ranging from the morning loungewear, to chic woollens in pants and dresses, fabulous Italian Knits, to the lovely new velvets for pants as well as elegant party fashions. Styles for a winter cruise will also be shown.

Musical interludes depicting various "Holiday Moods" will be presented by Mrs. Roberta Freshour, The Corridan Children, and Mr. Pete Bamos, making the show a pleasant diversion from the ordinary. Tasty homemade tea cakes served by chapter members and door prize drawings will top off a festive day for all who attend. Members of the working team are Mrs. Elsie Blanchard, chm., Mrs. Roberta Freshour, Mrs. Patricia Ouimette, all of West Springfield; Mrs. Beverly Bamos of Longmeadow; and Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Pond of Agawam. Tickets will be available at the door and everyone is welcome.

Conte Report from Washington

REPRESENTATIVE OIL COMPANIES DOUBLE STANDARDS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Large domestic oil companies responsible for preventing the import of less expensive foreign oil to this country are, as the same time, peddling millions of foreign made products across America in conjunction with their sweepstakes promotional campaigns, U.S. Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., charged today.

Conte is the senior minority member of the House Small Business Subcommittee on Regulatory Agencies, which has just concluded hearings on the vast sweepstakes promotional activities in this country.

"If you spend vast sums of money lobbying to prevent foreign petroleum products from competing with your own, it seems quite inconsistent to then turn around and import foreign merchandise for use in your own promotional campaigns," he said.

The subcommittee's investigation turned up the fact that from 1967 to mid-1969 11 major oil companies sold at least $80 million, and probably more than $100 million, worth of nonpetroleum related products such as radios, television sets, cameras and clocks. More than 80 % of these products were imported from abroad, Conte disclosed.

He cited the following 5 examples of the 11 major oil firms' involvement with foreign made products during that period:

Gulf Oil Co. sold $19,473,000 worth of nonpetroleum-related products through sweepstakes promotions. Of that total $15,971,000 was in foreign made products.

Phillips Oil Co. sold $18,078,000 worth, of which $10,351,000 was foreign made.

American Oil Co. sold $11,794,000 worth, of which $7,778,000 was foreign made.

Shell Oil Co. sold $6,821,000 worth, of which $6,474,000 was foreign made. (Shell furnished information on only one of its 6 promotions during this time period.)

Mobil Oil Co. sold $6,353,000 worth, of which $4,676,000 was foreign made.

Conte has been the leader in the House in the effort to eliminate, or at least drastically change, the 10-year-old Mandatory Oil Import Control Program which places severe quota restrictions on the amount of less expensive foreign oil which can be imported to the U.S.

In May, he introduced the first legislation ever to abolish the quota system which has been strenuously defended by the huge domestic oil industry.

"By blocking foreign imports of oil, these oil giants have created an artificial market in this country at a cost of literally tens of billions of dollars to American consumers. But while they cannot face the thought of foreign competition for their domestic oil market, it apparently bothers them not one bit to import and sell millions of dollars of foreign products in competition with manufacturers and distributors of similar domestic products.

"This is a classic case of the big guy saying 'Do as mi say, not as I do,'" Conte said. "The logic and the ethical consistency in this approach by our oil companies simply escape me."

A BILLION DOLLARS FOR CLEAN WATER

A billion $ for water pollution control was recommended last week by the Subcommittee on Public Works of the Senate Committee on Appropriations. This means that the appropriations bill which should go to the Senate for a vote within the next few days will contain an item for a billion dollars to provide matching funds for sewage treatment plants built by cities and towns.

Much of the credit for the favorable report on spending the full billion goes to Sen. Allen J. Ellender (La.), chm. of the Sub on P.W. of the Senate Approp. Comm. Sen. Ellender fought vigorously for full funding of the Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966, which authorized a billion $ to be spent this year for matching funds for municipalities building water treatment facilities. The administration asked for only $214 million to be actually appropriated, in spite of a $2 1/4 billion dollar backlog in applications from cities and towns ready to go ahead on waste treatment plant construction.

Other Senate leaders who fought especially hard for full funding include Edmund Muskie (Me.), Edward Kennedy (Mass.) and J. Caleb Boggs (Del.).

There is strong support for the billion $ appropriation in the Senate, and it is expected that the support of the Approp. P.W. Subcomm. will assure passage of the bill. After it is passed, the bill will go to a Senate-House Conf. Comm., where differences between the Senate and the House versions will be ironed out. A proposal to raise the full billion failed in the House last month by only 2 votes, and instead a compromise of $600 million was authorized. Leaders in the night against water pollution hope that a full billion will be recommended by the Senate-House Conference and passed by the House.

Probably the happiest people, if the full billion finally passes, will be the people of the state of Maine, who voted this month to raise a $50 million bond issue to make sure that the water pollution control battle in Maine does not falter.

Funds from the Maine bond issue will go towards pre-funding the federal share of municipal projects, which have been held up by the delay in appropriation of the funds promised in the Clean Waters Restoration Act. It is expected that when fed. funds do become available, the state will be reimbursed. If the House and Senate act to appropriate the full billion this year, Maine's citizens can expect to be repaid quickly for their act of faith in supporting munic. pollution abatement facilities.

Maine's vote in support of water poll. control is an example of the way the citizens have often been ahead of the fed. gov't when it comes to poll. abatement. Local communities all over the nation acted quickly to request fed. help in building treatment plants when aid was promised ... in spite of the fact that it is not easy for towns to raise the required $ to pay for their own share of such facilities, in these days of rising munic. costs.

The Citizens Crusade for Clean Water — a coalition of civic, professional, conservation, labor, and consumer groups — reports that it expects sufficient support in the Senate and House to pass the full billion promised. If it passes, it will be a long step in starting to clean up the nation's neglected and filthy rivers and lakes.

CHRISTMAS JOBS NEEDED

An appeal for Christmas jobs for poverty-area students 16 and over was launched today by the Junior Careers League, a continuation of the Mayor's Committee for Summer Youth Employment.

Backed with funds from the Wesley Methodist Church, the program is being headed by Perman Glenn, former JCA minority program aide and co-director of the summer employment program this past year.

"The summer program results were so encouraging that it was thought there might be some way we could provide additional jobs for those youngsters who would like work during the Christmas rush season and the vacation period", Glenn said.

A bd. of directors of 9 young people is assisting Glenn, who has been given office space and telephone at the Urban League office on State St., and additional assistance and cooperation from the Hill-McKnight Neighborhood Council.

"We are looking now for listings of any type of jobs for young people — office help, clerks, sales people, stock boys and girls, shipping, delivery, restaurant assistance for office parties or even home and grounds cleaning in preparation for the holidays," Glenn said, urging those with jobs to call him at the Urban League office.

Chriscola gets franchise for new equipment

Chriscola's Farm Equipment, Inc., of Suffield has been appointed the franchised dealer in the Agawam area for the Thomas Hudrostatic S/S Loader.

This brand new multi-purpose industrial machine is now being introduced to the North American market by Thomas Equipment Ltd. of Centerville, New Brunswick, Canada.

The compact, versatile and speedy loader available with over 30 options in buckets and attachments, is an entirely new entry into the small loader field, and was designed to perform efficiently and economically in a broad range of industrial and commercial applications.

Frank Chriscola, Company President, had this to say: "I am very pleased that our company is now handling the Thomas S/S Loader. I believe that it has great potential, and will further round out our line of other Thomas Equipment potato harvesting equipment."
